TOA Paint (TOA TB)

Neutral (Maintained)

Foreseeable Limited Growth

- Keep NEUTRAL with THB27.50 DCF TP, 7% upside and c.2% yield. Although TOA Paint reported solid earnings for 2Q23, we maintain our pessimistic view on its sales revenue growth moving forward. The growth from FY24 onwards has to solely rely on sales volume, which is normally susceptible to the construction and renovation activities within Thailand.
- TOA announced solid earnings for 2Q23, with the core profit of THB694m (+48% YoY, +7% QoQ) being 17% above our estimate, and net profit of THB741m (+103% YoY, +17% QoQ) mainly due to GPM improvement and YoY growth of sales revenue. 2Q23 sales revenue was driven to THB5.46bn (+5% YoY, -3.5% QoQ) by the double impacts of upward revision in average selling prices and domestic sale volume growth, while its retail channel played a more vital role in commanding the YoY sales revenue growth. A stronger GPM (34.5% in 2Q23 vs 29.9% in 2Q22) was contributed by the combination of higher ASPs YoY and lower production cost, especially from fuel costs being tamed down and a higher proportion of cheaper titanium dioxide imported from China (currently 35%, up from less than 5% in FY22). Despite the sales revenue increasing YoY in 2Q23, the company controlled its SG&A expenses and finance costs stringently.
- Maintain FY23 earnings prospect. With 2Q23's solid performance driving 1H23 earnings – accounting for 60% of our full-year core profit estimate – we expect our FY23 estimate to be likely achievable even though TOA's performance has been normally weaker in 2H.
- Possible growth limitation. As the upward revision of average product prices has been discontinued, YTD and sale revenue growth prospects will be relying heavily on sales volume going forward. Therefore, we are doubtful over TOA's long-term revenue growth, especially when the existing growth of sales revenue subsides. As Thailand's political vacuum period continues, there will be an absence of new major public infrastructure projects and tenders by government agencies this year. This would also trigger the private sector to postpone their major construction projects. Being the Thai market share leader in decorative paints (more than 50% of the industry sales volume) with a heavy reliance on the renovation market (contributing more than 40% of sales revenue), TOA is expected to face a growth limitation.
- Maintain TP. TOA's current ESG score remains unchanged at 2.5, which is a deep discount from our country median of 3.2. We maintain our DCF-based TP at THB27.50, based on an ESG discount of 14%.
