The Erawan Group (ERW TB)

Land Lease For New Bangkok Hotel Project; Still BUY

- Keep BUY and THB5.60 TP (DCF), 40% upside, c.2% yield. The Erawan Group's new land lease for a new non-Hop Inn hotel in Bangkok in 2030 may support its earnings in the long term. We maintain our view that its 4Q24-1Q25 outlook is promising, given its business expansions and the high season for tourism. The stock is our current Top Pick among Thai hotels.
- Land lease for new hotel project. ERW has entered into c.2-rai long-term land lease agreements with 11 land owners, with the land located near the Phrom Phong BTS Station in Bangkok. The nominal rental value of THB6.14bn is for 60 years, including the initial term from 1 Dec 2028 to 30 Nov 2058 and the extended lease term from 1 Dec 2058 to 30 Nov 2088. ERW plans to utilise the leased area for a c.THB2bn new hotel property, targeting the premium-economy to upscale segment. It expects to kick off construction by late 2026 and complete it by early 2030. ERW may finance c.70% of the project with bank loans and the rest from internal cash flows.
- Long-term earnings support. Located in one of Bangkok's prime shopping and tourism areas, the project should help support ERW's earnings in the long run. Its matured dual hotel properties, Ibis and Mercure Bangkok Sukhumvit 24, located in the same area are an indication of its success. The new hotel should attain a favourable EBITDA margin of 35-40%. All depreciation and finance costs will be capitalised throughout the construction period, so we expect no impact to its P&L statement over the next five years prior to the opening in 2030. Its THB1.24bn cash and 1.5x IBD/E ratio (excluding leases) in 3Q24 (with the latter still below the 2.0x covenant) should support the project financing.
- 4Q24F QTD updates. ERW saw healthy 11% 4Q24 QTD growth in revenue per available rooms (RevPar) for non-Hop Inn hotels (driven by the economy hotel segment) and 3% for Hop Inn hotels (driven by properties in Japan), compared to 3Q24. We maintain our view that ERW will see better earnings momentum in 4Q24, with YoY and QoQ growth supported by: i) Strong demand in November, fuelled by the corporate segment and events, ii) a positive trend in the leisure segment during the December festive period, iii) back-to-normal operations of its Grand Hyatt Erawan Bangkok (GHEB) hotel with 87% OR in Nov 2024, iv) the re-launch of Holiday Inn Pattaya in Oct 2024 post major asset enhancement works, which should boost ARR by >10%, and v) the ramping-up of 13 new Hop Inn hotels opening this year.
- Valuation. Maintain our forecasts, expecting a core profit expansion of 7% YoY this year, and 15% in 2025. We applied a 4% ESG discount to ERW's intrinsic value to derive our unchanged TP. ERW is trading at an attractive 21x FY25F P/E. The expected strong 4Q24-1Q25 earnings during the high travel season should be a near-term catalyst.
