Amata Corp (AMATA TB)

Expecting Better Climate After The Blizzard; BUY

• Maintain BUY with new SOP-based TP of THB22.20 from THB26.00, 53% upside. Although Amata Corp has been affected by global risks, ie COVID-19, and its share price declined in response to these risks, we expect the company to resume its core business activity when the situation reverses. However, we now lower our TP by adopting a higher discount to NAV to reflect these risks.

- FY19 earnings in line. FY19 net profit was THB1.74bn (+71%YoY) 2% lower than our estimate. 4Q19 was the lowest quarter of the year at THB250m (+115% YoY, -69% QoQ). Although industrial land presales in 4Q19 were only 122 rai (19.5ha) in both Chonburi and Rayong, the company transferred about 158 rai of industrial land in Rayong and Vietnam. Due to a significant portion of land transferred in Vietnam, GPM of industrial land business was high at 60%. Although FY19 financial cost was higher (+34% YoY) from higher balance of interest-bearing debt in 3Q19, industrial land transfer for FY19 was 867 rai (138.7ha) - higher than the 454 rai (72.6ha) in FY18. Recurring income in utility services and leased factory space continued to increase moderately.
- Concerns over FY20. Concerns of the COVID-19 outbreak may be far reaching, and this should affect momentum of presales and transfers going forward as Chinese manufacturers are currently the largest client base, accounting for 34% in Amata City Rayong, which has been a major driving force for the past decade. Our FY20 assumptions for industrial land presales and transfer remain at 800 rai (128ha). We expect the company to prioritise the transfer of industrial land this year, especially to its Chinese clients immediately after the COVID-19 outbreak eases.
- New presales to be loaded in 2H20. Although FY19 earnings were in line, actual industrial land presales were only 648 rai (104ha), or 32% lower than management's target. The majority of industrial land presales was in Amata City Rayong (83%), known as the preferred location among Chinese investors. We believe post outbreak will see the return of Chinese clients - the major catalyst for strong presales growth this year. We assume 700 rai (112ha) for FY20F presales, with the bulk largely occurring in 2H20 when clients resume their expansion plan into Thailand.
- · Recurring income to mitigate uncertainty of land sale. Based on its current orderbook worth THB2.6bn, c.70% should be recognised as revenue this year. While its recurring income from utilities and rental asset with a 5-year CAGR of 5.7% can mitigate the impact of volatility in the industrial land sale business, we expect net profit for next three years to stand firm at THB1.6-1.8bn pa.
