Moving With Solid GRM And Tight Supply; BUY

Target Price (Return): THB39.00 (12.1%)

 ESG score: 3.44 (out of 4)
 Avg Daily Turnover (THB/USD) 259m/7.81m

- Keep BUY, new THB39.00 TP, from THB35.00, 12% upside and c.4% yield. Bangchak Corp is expected to see strong GRM in 1Q22 and FY22 in tandem with higher demand from the transportation sector. We believe the company's better earnings will be supported by the recovery of the global and Thai economies, as well as stock gains from high oil prices. BCP also provides attractive dividend yields.

- Solid 1Q22 earnings expected via strong GRM and stock gain. Singapore GRM is also attractive, in the range USD8.00-12.00/bbl. BCP is expected to have strong GRM while Market GRM is expected to be high at USD7.30/bbl (+125% YoY, +7% QoQ) – this is accordance with better demand for middle distillate diesel and gasoline products as well as jet oil. Demand is increasing due to economic recovery, and higher transportation and aviation activities. Oil supply has been tight too due to the Russia-Ukraine conflict, while OPEC still cautiously controls its operations. BCP is set to have high stock gains of c.TH3bn, with 1Q22 earnings expected at THB4.9bn (+181% QoQ, +116% YoY).

- 2Q22F earnings to increase YoY, soften QoQ. BCP's refinery business is anticipated to see strong YoY growth due to continuously improving demand. The stock gain may not be as high as 1Q22's estimates, however, as oil prices increased sharply during that period, which should mean a softer QoQ performance. Its retail marketing business is also expected to recover after the Government decided to end diesel subsidies on 30 Apr after the Oil Fund has been almost depleted. This will reduce BCP's burden to support consumers, in our view.

- Revising up earnings in 2022. We revise 2022 earnings up 12% to THB5.4bn, mainly from the GRM increase to USD6.70/bbl from USD5.85/bbl in the original estimate. The utilisation rate for this year is expected to be at 98% from 83% in 2021. BCP recently completed the development of its refinery production efficiency project, which should lead to smoother refinery operations. It also continuously aims to increase more value-add products via its oil stations to capture new customer trends.

- Assigning ESG into the valuations. BCP has successfully applied ESG principles to develop sustainable operations. Based on our proprietary in-house methodology, we derive an ESG score of 3.4. Accordingly, we apply a 2% premium to our intrinsic target 2022F P/BV of 1.1x, near to its 5-year mean, to arrive at our new THB39.00 TP due to aforementioned revisions. BCP is expected to pay an appealing dividend yield of 4% in 2022.

- Downside risks: Weaker-than-expected demand and new supply in the market.

For the Thai refineries/petrochemicals, we use P/BV as a valuation basis. This is due to the high volatility in earnings as a result of stock gains/losses. We believe that the DCF valuation is not appropriate as the share price and earnings are highly subject to seasonal factors.	Recurring P/E (x)	na	5.14	8.88	8.73	8.59
