Ambitious Growth Momentum

- Maintain NEUTRAL, with new DCF-based THB3.00 TP from THB2.80, 1% downside. We anticipate FY22F earnings to grow consistently with a few challenges ahead, despite coming from a high base in FY21. High energy costs will remain a major risk, while renovation activities may be pressured by domestic purchasing power.
- A new record high in FY21. Dynasty Ceramic announced 4Q21 net profit of THB388m (+7% YoY, +6% QoQ), mainly driven by stronger sales revenue (+4.5% YoY, +7.4% QoQ), high GPM of 43%, and lower finance cost supported by the final round of its warrant exercise in May 2021. The seasonal pattern of quarter earnings resumed in FY21. On full-year basis, FY21 net profit was THB1.7bn, making it the company's record high net profit and moderate growth of 7% YoY. Although FY21 core revenue declined slightly by 1.2% YoY, its key to success in controlling profit margin was the major factor behind FY21's net profit growth – GPM increased to 43.3% and the company was able to reduce SG&A expenses by 2.4% YoY. In addition, finance cost declined significantly by 64% YoY as THB1.06bn cash from exercising warrants was used to partially pay off its short-term debt in 2Q21.
- Management's ambitious growth momentum. Management guided to boost FY22 core revenue growth by 15% YoY in an attempt to maintain profit margin as high as in FY21 despite the current high energy costs. In our view, the company's core revenue growth target seems too optimistic. Over past 10 years, its core revenue growth has never breached the +15% YoY level. However, in FY22, the company is planning to launch new high-margin ceramic tile products, continue to raise the selling prices of large-sized ceramic tile products, etc in order to drive revenue momentum and sustain >40% GPM.
- FY22F revision. Although we forecast FY22 revenue at +8% YoY, which is lower than management's target, the company's stringent control over production costs and SG&A expenses have been quite impressive, especially during the period of surging energy costs in FY21. We believe that the company will be able to maintain profit margin as its priority by raising the selling price of existing products by 4-5% and introducing new high value-added (HVA) products such as large-sized porcelain tiles. In addition, we cut FY22F SG&A expenses by 6.5% to reflect the company's prudent management, with FY22F net profit lifted by 5.4%. After its record high earnings in FY21, FY22F earnings are expected at +2.6% YoY.
- Maintain NEUTRAL and TP. Based on our in-house proprietary methodology, we assign an ESG score of 2.9. From this, we derive an initial DCF-based value of THB3.19 and apply a 6% ESG discount to arrive at our TP of THB3.00.
