- Reiterate BUY and THB27.00 TP, 34% upside with c.4% FY22F yield. Thai Union Group's revenues should recover in tandem with the reopening of economies around the world. Its FY22 numbers should improve as well, as demand is rising. Also, the group's well-diversified businesses, innovative products, and cost-management initiatives will enable it to have a better long-term view on consumer trends ahead, in our view.
- Able to adjust selling prices to reflect costs. Tuna costs reduced to USD1,600/tonne (-9% MoM) in January, which was lower after staying high at USD1,750/tonne in Dec 2021 due to temporary weather fluctuations that decreased fish catches. However, TU still has a cushion against such blips, since it has cheap inventory in stock. Tuna prices remain manageable at under USD2,000/tonne. In addition, the group is able to adjust selling prices to reflect costs. Meanwhile, improved demand in the US, EU, and Asia due to the economic recovery has given TU the opportunity to adjust its product prices. As most food manufacturers have raised their prices, this also provides the group with a cushion to increase prices as well.
- 4Q21 as expected. TU reported a 4Q21 net profit of THB1.93bn (flat QoQ, +32% YoY). After deducting extraordinary items such as FX gains, and business restructuring and supporting costs to help its supply chain, core earnings were still good at THB1.8bn (+21% QoQ, +18% YoY) – in line with expectations. Gross margin was high at 18.2% from 18% in 3Q21 and 4Q20 due to better sales via a recovery in food and restaurant markets as well as premium pet care products. The THB's depreciation was another support.
- Looks promising ahead with plans to debut a pet care unit. TU is expected to post a solid performance in 1Q22 due to the recoveries in the food and restaurant markets. We still estimate FY22's earnings at THB7.8bn (+7% YoY). In addition, the group plans to spin-off its pet care business I-Tail Corp (ITC) into the stock market in 3Q22. Primarily, TU plans to publicly sell ITC in the amount of not >660m shares, which should be allocated as: i) New share issuances of 600m shares and ii) the group's plan to bring its original ITC shares to sell 60m shares. After the IPO, its holding in ITC will be 77.64% of paid-up capital. TU shareholders will have pre-emptive rights to buy ITC in accordance with their holding proportion in the group (not >20% of ITC's IPO shares). TU's stake then consists of the latent value of its premium pet care business.
- Assigning ESG into valuations. TU has become a successful player in applying ESG principles in developing sustainable operations. Based on our in-house proprietary methodology, we derive an ESG score of 3.4. Accordingly, we apply a 4% premium to our DCF-derived intrinsic value to arrive at TP of THB27.00. Reiterate BUY.
